Galway City COVID-19 Community Call Helpline: The Galway City COVID-19 Community Call Helpline, which is being led and coordinated by Galway City Council is set up to provide a dedicated community response helpline to ensure that all vulnerable members of our community are appropriately supported as we move through the next stages of the Governments response to the COVID-19 public health emergency. The helpline, which has been operational since 30th March 2020 operates from 8am – 8pm, 7 days a week by Freephone 1800 400 150 and email to covidsupport@galwaycity.ie. A key purpose of the Helpline is to ensure that older people and those cocooning had access to very practical supports such as groceries, meals on wheels, transportation, medication collection and many others. The Helpline has dealt with over 580 requests to date and the importance of a local response in this regard was essential.

COVID-19 Community Response Map As part of the ongoing work of the Galway City Community Response Forum, the Galway City Community Network (GCCN) and Galway City Council have developed a map of the COVID-19 related responses, activities and services available to people in Galway City. The interactive map includes local services that are providing supports in relation to the collection of shopping, medications and fuel, social isolation supports from local and national organisations and information on meals and their delivery to people and families made vulnerable by the COVID-19 crisis. The map is now publicly available and can be used as a useful information resource both for individuals made vulnerable by COVID-19 and by organisations or agencies that need to know where they may refer their clients to for support. To view the map, click on the following link: www.galwaycity.ie/GalwayCityCommunityDashboard. There have been weekly updates to the map since the first version was released on 29th March 2020, with data provided from the GCCN. There were 42 voluntary organisations mapped in the first version and now there are details for 84 organisations providing services in the City. To date there have been over 2,000 views of the map, averaging 34 views per day.

'In This Together' Campaign

The second phase of the Community Call initiative commenced following a national campaign under the title 'In This Together' launched by the Taoiseach on Friday 24th April 2020. The emphasis is on Wellbeing and promoting different opportunities to support individual and community resilience. Galway City Council and partners on the Community Response Forum are offering a range of activities and resources as part of the initiative. The campaign aims to help everyone in Ireland to Stay Connected, Stay Active, and look after their Mental Health throughout the COVID-19 emergency. The campaign encourages everyone to set a new daily activity which helps them to feel a little healthier or a little happier as we deal with COVID-19. It signposts useful advice to help people of every age group to cope with the ongoing restrictions.

'In This Together' draws together a huge range of activities that you can pursue in your home or your community, by yourself or with family members or with friends online. There are ideas and activities for people of all ages. Galway City Council through its website www.galwaycity.ie and its social media will be letting people know all about them in the coming days and weeks.
